N Is for Neatness

Being neat means you take the time to tidy after yourself. For example, if you take something out, you put it back where it belongs. Neatness shows that you care for your surroundings. You help your parents and those who care for you when you tidy up after yourself, and this makes the areas you’re in nicer places to be in.

When you are neat it shows that you care about the things you have, you are considerate of others, and it’s a wonderful way to lend a helping hand.

Put it into action:

The next time you play with your toys, try to remember to put them away properly without being asked to do it.
