Imagine walking on a path through a forest. There are many trees around you, and you cannot see far ahead. In fact, you can only see just far enough to follow the path. Now imagine yourself being lifted high above the forest. Now you can see the whole forest, and even beyond. You see the path clearly and where it will take you, and you feel at peace because all is clear.
I am watching you from up above and am looking out for you. I know where every path will lead, and how to safely reach the end of it. Even if you do not understand why certain things happen to you, or the path you are walking on now is hard, remember that I know what is coming next. I have a wonderful plan for you, and I will get you there safely.
